Announcement

Change of Exclusive Distributorship Agreement for Thermal Transfer Ribbon Products in North, Central, and South America (excluding Hawaii and Guam) markets.

Fujicopian Co., Ltd. is pleased to announce the conclusion of the exclusive distributorship agreement with International Media Products LLC (IMP) on August 19, 2024, aiming to establish an expanded global sales network in North, Central, and South America (excluding Hawaii and Guam) for our thermal transfer ribbon products. With IMP, Fujicopian Co., Ltd. continues to supply the market with a variety of high quality products that utilize our technology.

As a result, the Exclusive Distributorship Agreement in the market was transferred from Palmetto Imaging Technology LLC, to IMP.

■About IMP

Founded in May 2013 in Atlanta, Georgia, USA, IMP is a leading manufacturer of thermal transfer ribbons and hot stamping ribbons used for printing various data on labels, tags, and flexible packaging.

In May 2024, the company established a subsidiary in Querétaro, Mexico, to focus on sales in the Latin American region.

IMP is pushing forward to gain further market share in North America and Mexico by assigning experienced TTR experts in the ribbon and label industry at each of its bases in the region.
